

Translation. Only the Danish version has legal validity.

*Order no. 6 of 9 January 2013
issued by the Ministry of Business and Growth*

Order on the partial entry into force of the act amending the act on safety at sea, the seaman's act and various other acts and repealing the act on the engagement of ship's crews

In pursuance of section 7(1) of act no. 493 of 12 May amending the act on safety at sea (lov om sikkerhed til søs), the seaman's act (sømandsloven) and various other acts and repealing the act on the engagement of ship's crews (lov om forhyring af skibsmandskab) (implementation of the Maritime Labour Convention, modernisation of provisions on inspections, prohibition against navigation in Greenland waters under the influence of alcohol, etc.), the following provisions are laid down:

1. Section 1(viii), section 2(i), (iii)-(xxx), (xxxii) and (xxxiv), section 3(i)-(iii), section 7(2) and section 8 of act no. 493 of 12 May 2010 amending the act on safety at sea, the seaman's act and various other acts and repealing the act on the engagement of ship's crews shall enter into force on 20 August 2013.

Subsection 2. Section 16(2), the second sentence, of the act on safety at sea, as worded in section 1(x) of act no. 493 of 12 May 2010, shall enter into force on 20 August 2013.

Subsection 3. Section 73a and section 73b of the seaman's act, as worded in section 2(xxxv) of act no. 493 of 12 May 2010, shall enter into force on 20 August 2013.

Subsection 4. Section 74b(1), the first sentence, and (3) and (4) of the seaman's act, as worded in section 2(xxxvi) of act no. 493 of 12 May 2010, shall enter into force on 20 August 2013.

Subsection 5. Section 2(ii) of act no. 493 of 12 May 2010 amending the act on safety at sea, the seaman's act and various other acts and repealing the act on the engagement of ship's crews shall enter into force on 15 January 2013.

*Ministry of Business and Growth, 9 January 2013
Annette Vilhelmsen / Jørgen Løje*